City Boys Clubs Board Drops Morals Suspect

DONALD L. SANTY

The executive board of the Boys Clubs of Portland Friday suspended Donald L. Santy, the organization's executive director, who was arrested Thursday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Fred Holcomb, president of the trustees, said the accusation against Santy was very damaging to the Boys Clubs and added that the trustees would meet to discuss the matter as soon as possible.

Santy came to Portland with a long background in work in Boy Scouts and other youth organizations and with good recommendations, Holcomb said. He added that he asked both Portland police and the office to investigate charges against Santy that had come to the attention of the trustees in January.

Any knowledge of improper activities was denied by Santy, who also denied admitting such activities to police.

Santy was arrested on the charge in connection with acts of sexual perversion involving members of Columbia Club and Pal Boys Club Thursday night and later was released on $5,000 bail. He is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court April 26.

"I have no idea what it is all about," Santy said Friday. "I emphatically deny such activities."

He was surprised and shocked at a Police Bureau statement which said Santy had admitted involvement with a boy.

"I made no admission. I made no statement. I have no statement to make," he said. "I did not admit to anything to no premeditated acts of any kind."

Brief Statement Admitted

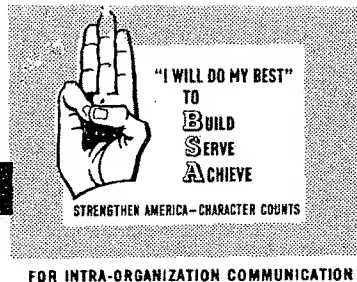

Santy said he had given a brief statement on an unidentified matter which was "insignificant and which happened so long ago I had almost forgotten it."

Morals Detective William T. Fisher said Santy admitted he had performed an act of sexual perversion with a boy in the organization. Sgt. Arthur Schermerhorn, head of the morals detail, said Santy typed and signed his own statement in which he admitted the act of perversion.

Santy, who lives at 10231 NE Tillamook St., came to Portland from Seattle in 1958. Detectives said his statement indicates that boys had visited his apartments at various times and places.

Police Hold Youth Aide

Donald L. Santy, 40, executive director of Boys Club of America in Portland, was booked on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors Thursday night.

Morals Detective William T. Fisher said Santy admitted he had performed acts of sexual perversion with boys in the organization.

Santy's arrest, which followed an awards banquet at the club, was made after an intensive investigation of "numerous" complaints detectives said. Bail was set at $5,000.

Santy, who resides at 9204 SE Harold St., came to Portland from Seattle in 1958, police said. Detectives said his signed statement indicates he committed the offenses over a period of time both in Portland and on excursions members of the club took to other cities.

"We talked to a good number of boys," said Fisher, adding that the oldest youth involved had been 16.

The Boys Club of America, a national organization, assumed directorship of the Portland Pal's Club, formerly operated by the Police Bureau, several years ago. Detectives estimated Portland membership in the club at about 1,000.

Address Incorrect

The address of Donald L. Santy, suspended executive director of the Boys Clubs of Portland, was incorrectly given as 10231 NE Tillamook St., in a news story in Saturday's Oregonian. According to the manager of the building, Santy no longer resides at that address. Later information from the Police Bureau listed his address as 10621 NE Alexander St.

Dear Howard:

I regret the circumstances that make it necessary for me to request that Mr. Donald L. Santy be placed on the confidential file. I am enclosing two clippings from the newspapers over the weekend indicating the situation that Don has got himself involved in that makes this action necessary.

If you will check back on your professional records of about ten years ago, you will find that Don was employed as a district Scout executive in, I believe, the North Shore Area Council outside of Chicago. After two or at most three years, he resigned his employment there and was later employed by the Boys' Clubs of America, and some eight to ten years ago became their executive director in Seattle. Shortly after my arrival here, Don moved to Portland and became the executive director here, which position he has held until this weekend.

Don has always had Scout units in his Boys' Clubs, and currently has two under Boys' Club sponsorship. If you will send one of your regular forms, we will try to get the complete information that you need.

Best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Guy P. Miller
